March 25, 2020

Dear Excel Center Family,

Based on the “Stay Home-Work Safe” order by Travis County officials on Tuesday, March 24, and in a continued effort to help reduce the spread of the Coronavirus, I will be extending the closure of all schools through midnight, Monday April 13.

Please note, according to the order, educational entities such as The Excel Center may continue providing essential services as needed. We will continue to make every effort possible to assist our families during this unusual time.

As a reminder, while our physical campuses are closed, we are still providing instructional and holistic support to all of our students. It is important for all of our students to stay engaged and keep moving their learning forward – you have graduation plans, please keep them right in front of you. This is not a vacation, rather a new era of learning for both staff and students. Your education and future career training is going to be critical when this time has passed, please work with your teachers and/or life coaches to get the education and support you need.

I ask for your continued patience, flexibility, and support during the next several weeks. Please know I will keep you updated with any developments or closure extensions. In the interim, I wish you and your family much health during this time.

Thank you and stay well,

Traci Berry
Superintendent of Schools
